This evening's lecture by James W. Fitzmaurice, representative of the London Times, will bear chiefly on the first of three papers already forwarded to that famous journal by him. It will be of a humorous cast, somewhat of the style of his recent talk to the Men's League, most of whom heard which will want to hear the lecture tonight.

His first paper contains first impressions of Hawaii, his second more mature reflections and third is on the future of Hawaii. Mr. Fitzmaurice is now preparing a critique on Olive in after hold, S.
